TAX RATE OUT FORECAST BY MAYOR COUGARS FACE SUPREME TEST TO-NIGHT

VICTORIA HAS CHANCE TO DRAW EVEN IN THE WORLD'S HOCKEY SERIES AT MONTREAL

Cougars Will Fight Under Western Rules to Follow
Up Victory of Saturday and Tie With Montreal Maroons in Fourth of World Championship Games for Stanley Cup.

Montreal, April 6.—With the equalizer in sight, Victoria Cougars will press to-night to draw up to the Montreal Maroons in the fight for the Stanley Cup. Following their well-earned victory on Saturday night the Cougars are prepared to put all they have into to-night's game, the fourth of the series, which will be played under Western rules.

COUGARS IMPROVED

The visitors showed a decided improvement Saturday night, especially on defence. Their wings were stopping more Maroons rushes than in previous games. If they can show the same snap and teamwork to-night as they did then the locals will have all they can do to prevent the series going to the full five games.

MAROOONS DETERMINED

The Maroons, however, are determined to finish the series to-night. The two days of rest and attention from Bill O'Brien, their trainer, will leave them in better condition physically.

They will make no mistake of underestimating the team, that, apparently decisively beaten, came from behind to take the third game and kept in the running.

No changes in the lineups have been announced.

NEW SOCIALISTIC MOVE IN BRITAIN

Independent Labor Party Sets Out to Convince Parliamentary Labor Group

London, April 6 (Canadian Press Cable).—A policy which in effect means the Independent Labor Party of Great Britain must again embark upon a campaign to convert the present Parliamentary Labor group to clear-cut Socialism, if possible, was adopted by the Independent Labor Party at its annual conference at Whiteley Bay, Northumberland. The clear-cut Socialism aimed at includes the Nationalization of those industries which are unable to pay a living wage.

This policy has already been repudiated by Ramsay MacDonald, former Premier, and Philip Snowden, who was Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Labor Government, as impracticable.

The conference endorsed a general programme which is likely to become known as "Socialism in our time." Most of its details are already familiar to the public.

COMMISSION SUGGESTED

H. W. Brailsford, editor of The New Leader, Independent Labor, submitted a programme, the main objects of which are the creation of a commission to define living wage standards, to inquire into direct taxation to provide five shillings for each child, payable to the mother, and nationalization of the banks. By such stages, he said, the control of all industry would be won by Socialism, within the lifetime of the present generation.

Among the critics of Brailsford's programme was Emanuel Shinwell, ex-M.P., national organizer and Parliamentary agent of the Amalgamated Marine Workers' Union. He was Parliamentary Secretary of the Department of Mines in the late Labor Government.

UNEMPLOYMENT FORESEEN

Oswald E. Mosley, ex-M.P., quoted the outcome of the noted economist, Sir Joseph Stamp, who has declared the surplus of the income of the country if pooled would yield only five shillings for each family. Mostly he feared that any maximum wage would be at the expense of the unemployment of other workers and higher prices to the consumers.

M.P.'S TOLD ABOUT SEIZURE OF ALCOHOL

Customs Inquiry Committee Learns Car Was Captured in Montreal

Seizure of Liquor on Montreal Wharf and Fines of Two Men Described

Ottawa, April 6.—The story of the seizure of a carload of alcohol, billed from Halifax to Toronto as lead, was told at this morning's session of the Customs inquiry committee by Corporal J. H. Tyle of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

OPINIONS DIVERGED

The evidence in this case disclosed there was some difference of opinion between the Mounted Police and the customs officers in Montreal as to the way the transaction should have been handled. At first the Mounted Police, from the information they had received from Halifax, thought the car was consigned to Montreal. Customs Officer Knox suggested the customs people were better able to follow the matter than the Mounted Police, and promised to notify the latter when the car arrived in Montreal. The Mounted Police thought they should work in close touch with the customs people throughout.

SEIZED IN MONTREAL

When Corporal Tyle next heard of the car it was in the hands of the customs authorities in Montreal. Asked by counsel why the Mounted Police had not shadowed the car to Toronto so as to discover who was smuggling the liquor, Corporal Tyle replied he did not know the car was consigned to Toronto. By the time he had discovered that the customs people in Montreal had seized the car and taken it to the customs house at the session of the committee this forenoon was the first since the adjournment before the Easter recess of the House of Commons.

LIQUOR INCIDENT

Ottawa, April 6.—An attempt to smuggle 100 bottles of rum in a taxicab across a wharf in Montreal was described at this morning's session of the Customs inquiry committee by Constable Frank Cahill of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. His evidence corroborated that given by other members of the customs force.

Afterwards, Customs Officer J. P. Landy was charged with being the customs officer implicated, but later the charge was dropped on instructions from customs headquarters.

TWO WERE FINED

When Sergeant Salt seized the liquor he exacted a promise from the ship's officers they would remain in Montreal until the incident was investigated.

Two of them kept their word, were prosecuted and fined $50. The third escaped and the charge against him was still pending.

NEW MAIL PLANES SERVE THIS COAST

Pasco, Wash., Elko, Nevada, Service Links up With U.S.
Transcontinental System

Pasco, Wash., April 6.—Bringing virtually every city in the Pacific Northwest to within approximately forty hours of New York City, the Pasco-Elko air mail service started to-day with its first history-making flight.

More than 5,000 visitors who had come to Pasco saw the two planes take off to-day for Elko, Nevada, with the first loads of mail for the east. Due to the large amount of mail, two machines were necessary.

The air service calls for the daily departure of a plane from here at 6 a.m. and its arrival at Elko at 11 a.m. At Elko the mail is transferred to the transcontinental plane, which arrives in Chicago at 8 a.m. the following day and in New York that afternoon.

Railroad connections from Portland, Ore., Vancouver, B.C., and Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane in Washington, and at intermediate rail connections from Victoria, B.C., will provide quick service from those points to Pasco.

The air mail will cut the time from New York to Pasco in two days. The present railroad schedule, which from the east will arrive at Pasco at 11 a.m., will be cut to 9 a.m.

One of the air mail planes was damaged yesterday when it made a forced landing near here. Pilot George Buck and Joseph Taft, accompanied with slight injuries. Taft and Franklin Rose are pilots of the two planes who made the flight from here to-day. A reserve plane was rushed from Boise, Idaho, by Pilot Leo Cuddeback.

POLICEMAN IN NEW YORK KILLED BY RADIO BURGLAR

New York, April 6.—Policeman Arthur Kenny, one of four policemen shot by the elusive "radio burglar," for whom police have been searching in the Queen's district two months, died to-day. This is the first death attributed to the burglar, who has stolen about 150 radio sets from various houses since he commenced his depredations.

Gasoline Fumes Cause of Death

Winnipeg, April 6.—Gasoline fumes which were ignited by a spark from a small motor used to run a pump or by fire in a stove in the building were probably the cause of the disastrous explosion and fire which destroyed the warehouse of the Independent Oil Company at Brandon, Manitoba, March 30, and caused the death of one man and the injury to two.

The report issued to-day by the provincial fire commissioner, E. McGrath, after an investigation, states that "conditions in the warehouse were just right for such an occurrence."

The Spanish airmen are using three aeroplanes. Each pilot is accompanied by a mechanic. The route from Tunis will be through Tripoli, Cairo, across Arabia and down the Persian Gulf to the Malay Peninsula, and thence to the Philippines.

If the airmen are successful in reaching Manila they will fly thence to Tokyo and return to Spain by air over Siberia and Russia.

The pilots are Captains Joaquin Loriga-Taboada, Rafael Martinez-Esteviz and Eduardo Gonzalez-Galarraga. Each machine is equipped with a 450-horsepower motor.

GOES TO OTTAWA TO ATTEND CANADIAN LEGION MEETING

LIEUT.-GEN. SIR PERCY LAKE
Vancouver, April 6.—Lieut.-General Sir Percy Lake of Victoria, national commander of the newly formed Canadian Legion, is in Vancouver to-day on his way to Ottawa to attend an executive meeting of the Legion.

An earlier dispatch than that above said:
Calcutta, April 6.—With the exception of troops who are still patrolling the streets of this city, there was little evidence this morning of the rioting and bloodshed of the past few days, when twenty-three persons are said to have been killed and many wounded.

Trams and buses were running on normal schedule and business was in full swing.

The police claim the entire city is now quiet. The passions of the Hindus and Moslems have been gradually dying down. There was a final outbreak near the Eden Gardens last night, when 400 Moslem boatmen attacked a police outpost. The police were pelted with missiles, but reinforcements were quickly brought up and drove off the assailants with revolver fire, one person being killed and four wounded.

Spurt in Current Week, With Many Garages

Building permits issued by the city got off to a good start this week with $13,500 worth of construction covered in the first two days. Cecil French, managing director of the French Remedy Company, has taken out a permit for the completion of a handsome suit of offices on the southwest corner of Gordon and Courtney streets, to cost $7,000. The foundations were completed some time ago, and now work will be pushed on the complete structure.

A handsome seven-roomed stucco dwelling at 75 Cook Street is covered in another permit issued by the city. Arthur H. Alexander, to cost $6,500. The levy of garage permits which has become a marked feature of building permits this year, will go to make up a new high mark for the week, it is expected.

The storm left the city in darkness. Sharp lightning accompanied the windstorm.

CALCUTTA MOSLEMS ATTACKED BY HINDUS

Fresh Outbreak To-day is Quickly Isolated by Bodies of Troops and Police

Spasmodic Attacks on Individuals of the Two Sides
Are Reported

Calcutta, India, April 6.—Rioting between Hindus and Moslems broke out again in the northern part of Calcutta about 4 o'clock this afternoon. A Moslem mosque was vigorously attacked by Hindus.

Police and military units quickly isolated the scene of the outbreak.

Spasmodic attacks on individuals of both religious communities are also continuing.

An earlier dispatch than that above said:

RATEPAYERS TO GET BENEFIT OF REDUCED TAXES ON LOWER ASSESSMENTS FOR YEAR 1926

Gradual Deflation of Over-levying to Be Attempted if Mayor Pendray and Finance Committee Have Their Way; Finance Committee Believed to Be Solidly Behind Mayor in Policy of Asking for Less.

Pressed this morning for a statement of his stand on the setting of the mill rate for this year Mayor J. Carl Pendray declared himself solidly behind the movement to bring down the rate to thirty-nine mills or less. Last year the rate was 39.3 mills on a slightly higher assessment. If the rate is set at thirty-nine mills, or less ratepayers will benefit by a virtual reduction of four mills on their tax bills this year over last. In his statement to-day Mayor Pendray said:

"I would like to see the rate put down to 38 mills. It all depends, it seems to me, on the amount of revenue we can get from the land department. Our sales of land are well ahead this year so far, and with a real aggressive lands sales policy we should have a much bigger revenue from this source than the current year. This will act automatically as a reduction of the amount to be levied for next year."

"I feel that notwithstanding the reduction in the assessed value of property, which is going to give ten per cent relief, holders of vacant property will be able to pay less than the current year. This will act automatically as a reduction of the amount to be levied for next year."

"While we collected eighty-six per cent of the levy last year, I feel it safe to predict that we will realize eighty-eight per cent this year if a reasonable reduction in the mill rate is made. As far as I am concerned I am going to do my utmost to bring the mill rate down. There will certainly not be any increase. It must be remembered, however, that reduction of land assessments have already effected a considerable cut in the city's normal revenue."

MEETING TO-NIGHT
Mayor Pendray sat in conference this morning with D. A. Macdonald, City Comptroller, and Edwin C. Smith, City Treasurer, analysing what would be the effect of the passage of the mill rate at various figures.

The finance committee of the City Council met at 2:15 p.m. to-day and launched at once into the discussion of the report it will make to-night to the council session. The council meeting has been called for half an hour in advance of the regular time, and aldermen will take their seats at 7:30 p.m. in the Mayor's office. After half an hour's discussion on various phases of the matter the council will commence its regular session in the council chamber.

The report of the finance committee, it is unofficially expected, will favor a mill rate of 39 mills, as compared to 39.3, the rate struck last year on a larger assessment. Council discussion may change the recommendation of the finance committee either up or down, the council on all former occasions having shown itself fairly evenly divided on its view of this year's budget requirements.

Aldermen Alderman Shanks and Alderman Alderman Shanks have so far given little indication of how they will vote on a straight issue of a reduction in the mill rate.

Irrespective of what action the council takes to-night taxpayers in Victoria in the aggregate will contribute less to city coffers this year than last, and that in a year in which debt requirements are some $44,000 over last year. In eight estimates sessions the council allocated $100,000 from its estimated expenditures and added $25,000 to its anticipated receipts.

Last minute recommendations by the finance committee, if passed by the council, are expected to top a considerable sum in addition to the budget and make possible the levying of a lessened mill rate.

Next year's debt charges will be down $22,000, and more ratepayers are expected to be shown on the city's taxable list of properties, with consequently enhanced collections and a wider sharing of the annual levy necessary to run the city and maintain its services.

Redoubled advance payments of taxes, however, will be expected to plan, greatly renewed vigor in the building trades, and a brisk lead in sales of city land, all point to a year of progress for the city, it is argued by those who are making a stand for the reduction of the rate of levy.

On two occasions the council has approached the mill rate fence without jumping. To-night it is expected to hurdle the obstacle and declare itself definitely for this year.

LITTLE FAIRS AND BIG FAIRS ARGUE OVER MONEY GRANT

Meeting Seeks to Reach Settlement Between B.C. Exhibition Association

Smaller Fairs Fight to Prevent Grants Being Reduced to Aid
Large Centres

Organizations sponsoring Fall fairs in large and small British Columbia centres have come into sharp conflict over the distribution of Government fair grants. At a meeting in New Westminster to-day they will endeavor to reach a satisfactory basis for the handling of these funds, which are vital to the success of many exhibitions in different parts of the Province.

Government officials in charge of the fair funds explained to-day that the fair organizations handling the falls in larger cities are endeavoring to secure larger grants by reducing the amounts paid to smaller fairs. They argue that the big fairs, like those held in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster do more good than the smaller exhibitions and should receive Government aid accordingly.

This attempt to secure a larger proportion of the Government money available has roused the smaller fair organizations and they are working to prevent any reduction in their individual grants. They assert that the small local fairs, close to the farmer, encourage increased production and high class agriculture more directly than do the big fairs. The big fairs, it is argued, too, make a revenue from outside attractions like horse racing and do not need Government assistance as do the smaller displays.

Nanaimo, April 6.—Two miners, Bert Conti and Frank Subury, were killed by a blowout in the Granby Mine at Cassidy this morning.

The blowout filled the working place back to a distance of twelve feet with coal and when the men had been uncovered twelve minutes after the accident they were found to have been suffocated.

The place where the two men were killed had been examined five minutes previously by Inspector of Mines Jackson and Overman MacLachlan and at that time there were no signs of danger.

British North America Trading Company against the Government of Newfoundland for a claim arising over alleged failure of the Government to deliver to the company 70,000 cords of pulpwood in 1922-23. The claim was for $13,000,000 and the Government brought a counter-claim for $3,000,000 for wood delivered and not paid for. The judgment in the latter case was $7,000 for the Government. James H. Rogers of New York was the principal figure in the case for the plaintiff.

Veteran Newspaper Man and Former Consul-General Lived in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, April 6.—Samuel S. Knabenshue, veteran newspaperman and diplomat, who had lived in Los Angeles since his retirement in 1914, died here yesterday. He was eighty years old.

Mr. Knabenshue formerly was managing editor of The Toledo, Ohio, Blade, and for forty years he was associated with D. R. Locke, owner of that newspaper. From 1909 to 1914, he was United States consul-general at Tientsin, China.

HENRY L. MENCKEN APPEARS IN COURT

Fights Barring of Magazine American Mercury From Sale in Massachusetts

Boston, April 6.—Henry L. Mencken, editor of The American Mercury, arrested yesterday on Boston Common for the sale of his magazine in a "fight against such predatory organizations as that of J. Frank Chase," is to appear for trial today.

Mencken was so enthusiastically greeted by the crowd which attended the advertised sale yesterday that it was with great difficulty and only after fifteen minutes that Chase was able to push his way to the editor's side with the aid of several burly policemen to make the purchase necessary for prosecution.

The crowd followed the prisoner, his counsel and the officers through the streets to police headquarters. The arraignment took little time. Mencken pleaded not guilty to possessing obscene literature and to making a sale of such.

He was released on bail of $1,000 on his own recognizance for trial today. It was agreed the facts of the sale would be admitted without witnesses and that the verdict should be based upon the article.

NOTIFIED CHASE
Mr. Mencken, with Arthur Garfield Hays of the American Civil Liberties Union, came here yesterday morning. Mencken's first step was to get from the city a license to vend newspapers and periodicals on the streets.

He then notified Mr. Chase he intended to sell a copy of The American Mercury, the April issue of which had been barred from sale in Massachusetts on complaint of Mr. Chase, at 2 o'clock at Park and Tremont Streets.

After his arraignment Mr. Mencken announced he intended to seek in the Federal courts a restraint of Mr. Chase and his associates, severally and collectively, for making vague threats with the intent of ruining the business of the publishers of The American Mercury. He charged the dealers had been intimidated and threatened by the secretary before any legal action had been taken to prevent the sale of the magazine.

RUSSIAN EMIGRES ORGANIZE MOVEMENT

At Meeting in Paris They Plan to Drive Soviets From Russia

Paris, April 6.—The Russian emigres who are holding a congress here with the hope of eventually driving Bolshevism out of Russia, have elected as their president a man who claims to have been Nikolai Lenin's teacher of all the radicalism the Red leader ever knew, and who once was called "the father of Russian Marxism."

Professor Peter Strouwe, a former criminal lawyer, was named as secretary-general.

The congress will continue in session until Friday. Hardship and suffering have left their mark on the faces of most of the delegates present. The threadbare clothing of some of them would seem entirely out of place amid the luxurious appointments of the hotel where the congress is being held was it not for the proud and erect bearing of the wearers.

PEASANTS AID

The downtrodden peasants of the great Russian estates are being led to by their former masters as the only hope of ever re-establishing the monarchy. This is set forth in a report by Secretary-General Semenov of the Russian emigrant committee, which was adopted by the congress after a debate that extended throughout yesterday.

"All emigres must join in assisting the struggle which is being carried on by the peasants, now conscious of their strength, against our common foe, Bolshevism," said the report, and it concluded by recommending that the emigres aid directly while the peasants continued their campaign from within, "waiting until the hour is ripe for attacking the Third International directly."

TO APPROACH LEAGUE

Yesterday's session of the congress had as its basis the organization of Russian political exiles into a body which would be capable of treating with the League of Nations and individuals for putting down the rule of the Soviet.

Notable among the absentees from the first sessions of the congress yesterday were the former Grand Dukes, including Nicholas Romanoff, who hopes to occupy the throne of the Czars. It had been felt danger might lurk in their way should they appear, notwithstanding the fact that the French Government is taking all precautions, and that the Russian imperialists themselves are wide awake.

$40,000 FIRE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

St. John, N.B., April 6.—Loss of approximately $40,000 was caused by fire which swept the town of Minto, near here, on Saturday. Six buildings, covering an area of half an acre and including the theatre, pool-room, a store, barber shop, cobbling shop and the residence of E. H. Cady, were destroyed. Only the lack of wind prevented more buildings being burned down as the town had no fire-fighting equipment.

CHARGES WITHDRAWN

Emmonton, April 6.—Charges against E. R. Birch and W. J. Wilcox of forging documents purporting to be appointments to act as scrutineers for James A. Collins, Conservative, at the Bruce No. 4 poll in the Peace River constituency with recent Federal general election, have been withdrawn.

U.S. PROHIBITION INQUIRY IS HELD

Sub-committee of Senate Starts Two-week Hearing; Both Sides Prepared

Washington, April 6.—The Senate Judiciary sub-committee is conducting the first comprehensive congressional hearing on prohibition, having begun its sessions yesterday with the wet given four hours to lay the groundwork of their case. The wets have been allotted four hours a day for six days and the dries will have a like period next week.

Recognizing they can not hope to achieve liberalization of the act at this session, the wet leaders have set out with the primary purpose of getting their case formally before Congress and the people, with an eye to the future. The hearings, technically, were called for consideration of various bills before the committee, but the whole field of prohibition as it has unfolded in the last six years comes within their scope.

OPENING ARGUMENTS

The session yesterday provided time chiefly for the presentation of opening arguments by Senator Bruce and others, but before the hearing has ended a number of officials, social workers, ministers, physicians and observers in various fields of endeavor are expected to testify on both sides of the issue.

PROHIBITION HAD NO EFFECT

"The Volstead Act," he said, "has placed human happiness in more than one vital particular under the irritating and harassing domination of a sour, corrosive and narrow-minded Puritanism, which does not hesitate to avow its enmity even to such innocent recreations as smoking and dancing."

CHURCH IN POLITICS

"The Volstead Act," he said, "has placed human happiness in more than one vital particular under the irritating and harassing domination of a sour, corrosive and narrow-minded Puritanism, which does not hesitate to avow its enmity even to such innocent recreations as smoking and dancing."

"It has for the first time brought the church deeply into politics."

TERRIBLE MESS

A suggestion that Congress at least amend the Volstead Act so as to permit the sale of beverages non-intoxicating in fact was made by Julien Codman, counsel for the wets.

"The time has come when Congress must consider, if it be to do its duty to the people, the Prohibition Amendment, the Moderation League, Inc. of New York and the Constitutional Liberty League of Massachusetts."

"We are asking for modification of the national prohibition law," Mr. Codman said, "not only because it exceeds the mandate of the Eighteenth Amendment, but because it is an intoxicating beverage which is not intoxicating, but also because it has been shown and we will produce additional evidence on this point—that it is not appropriate legislation to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment that it has done incredible harm instead of good; that as a temperance measure it has failed to prevent drinking; that it has failed to decrease crime; that as a matter of fact it has increased crime and promoted bootlegging and smuggling to an extent never known before in the history of the world, and that it has spread illicit distilling over county after county, and that it has made no part of it free from the taint."

EQUAL RIGHTS

Mr. Codman insisted on amendment of the Volstead Act to permit sale of beverages non-intoxicating in fact as a matter of simple justice, declaring this would give every one the same rights as those now enjoyed by such individuals as could make wine and cider in their homes.

DETROIT OVERLAND PARTY IN ALASKA MAY BE FORCED TO SHOOT ANIMALS

New York, April 6.—The Detroit Arctic Expedition may have to shoot its dogs if food is not obtained for them in a short time, a radio dispatch from the party, which is exploring the polar lands north of Alaska, said last night.

The huskies are drawing the sleds of one division of the expedition which is pushing overland toward the mouth of the Colville River, which is about 140 miles east of Point Barrow, Alaska, the explorers' base of operations.

The men of the party, according to the dispatch, are living on ptarmigan, but there is not enough for the dogs. A Malcolm Smith, leader of the overland trekkers, has sent to a settlement on James Island for food for the dogs, but the ice is so bad that the dogs will have to be sacrificed.

The expedition, sponsored by the Detroit Aviation Society, is in command of Captain George H. Wilkins, World War aviator. The expedition plans to explore the unknown lands of the north by air and by land.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and the Frog Grandma

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggly was hopping through the woods near a pond of water, he heard a voice croaking:

"Oh, how hungry I am! How hungry I am!"

The rabbit gentleman twinkled his pink nose, moved one long ear forward and the other long ear backward to hear better, and he said to himself:

"This may be one of the Bad Chaps. They're always hungry and I wouldn't like them to nibble me." But after looking carefully over the pond and not seeing, as he feared, the Skillery Scallery Alligator, Uncle Wiggly thought perhaps it wasn't a Bad Chap after all. Again the voice croaked:

"Oh, how hungry I am!" and then out from under a broad green leaf, near shore, where she lived, hopped an old frog grandmother, Uncle Wiggly knew her—she was grandmother to Bully and Bawly No Tail, the frog boys.

"So you're hungry, are you, Grandmother?" asked the rabbit. "Very hungry!" she croaked. "I guess Bully and Bawly have forgotten all about me. Every Tuesday they bring me good things to eat that their mother sends to me, but they haven't come to-day and I am so hungry! I am too old to go hunting food for myself. I have to wait until Bully and Bawly bring it to me!"

"That's too bad," said Uncle Wiggly kindly. "Perhaps Bully and Bawly were late for school and had to hurry without coming to see you. I'll take a hop through the woods and see if I can find them!"

So the rabbit gentleman hopped through the woods and pretty soon he saw on the path two baskets.

"Oh, ho!" said Uncle Wiggly to himself, "those look like baskets of food. But still they may be a trap to catch me. I must be careful!"

But after sniffing around and looking at the baskets from all sides, the rabbit felt sure they were harmless.

"Oh, how kind you are!" she croaked.

so he went closer and found them filled with all sorts of good things such as frog grandmothers might like—lily leaf pudding, sweet root bread, sunflower tea and so on.

"I see what happened!" said Uncle Wiggly to himself. "Bully and Bawly started out with these baskets of food for their grandmother, but for some reason they didn't take them to her. Dear me! I hope none of the Bad Chaps caught those two little frog boys!"

Uncle Wiggly looked all around, but could see no signs of anything wrong. He picked up the baskets of food, he carried them to the frog grandmother.

"Oh, how kind you are!" she croaked when she saw them. "Yes, these baskets are from Mrs. No Tail. She sends me these filled with food every Tuesday. But what happened to Bully and Bawly?"

"I don't know," answered the rabbit gentleman. "But I am going back to the woods to find out!" So, leaving the frog grandmother eating the lily leaf pudding, Mr. Longears hopped back to the forest. When he reached the place where he had found the baskets he saw Bully and Bawly hopping around as fast as they could, poking among the leaves with sticks.

"Well, I'm glad the frog boys are all right," thought Mr. Longears. "I'll tell them I found the baskets and took them to their grandmother. I'll see, first, what they have to say." Mr. Longears hopped toward the frogs and called: "Hello!"

"Oh—hello!" croaked Bully. And Bawly also said the same thing. "What are you doing?" asked the rabbit, pretending he didn't know.

"Oh—now—we're just sort of—sort of looking for something!" croaked Bully.

"Looking for marbles?" asked Uncle Wiggly. "No, thank you!" answered Bawly.

"Tope!" asked Uncle Wiggly. "No, thank you," answered Bully.

"Kites!" asked Uncle Wiggly. "Oh, no!" croaked Bawly. "Let's tell him!" cried to his brother and then he went on to say: "We were taking some baskets of food to our grandmother, but we set them down here to have a game of hide and go seek, and when we came back the baskets were gone and grandma will be hungry and—oh, dear!" The two froggie boys felt very sad. But their sadness was changed to joy when the bunny gentleman said:

"I found the baskets and took them to your grandmother. After this do your work first and play afterward!" And Bully and Bawly said they would. So, feeling much happier, on they hopped to school, and if the picture book doesn't stand on its head so you have to turn a somewhat to read a story, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly moving a rug.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. E.A.S. b.s.s. is a thing to use. It is a purified cocoon oil shampoo, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get E.A.S. at any drug store, and how the E.A.S. hair will last the whole family for months. Two or three teaspoonfuls of E.A.S. is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you E.A.S. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package. Advt.

EASTER WEDDING PRETTY CEREMONY

Miss Nellie Shepherd Married Last Night to Mr. Austin I. Curtis

A very pretty wedding took place last night at the Metropolitan United Church when the Rev. A. K. McMinn, assisted by Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell, united in marriage Mary Helen (Nellie), youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Shepherd of 2821 Gosworth Road, and Mr. Austin I. Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Curtis, Douglas Street, Saanich. For the happy occasion a profusion of Spring flowers were used in decoration at the church, each aisle being terminated by an arch of fragrant blossoms.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was groomed in white georgette, studded with diamonds. Her veil was attached to the head with a circlet of orange blossoms and the bouquet carried was composed of Ophelia roses and carnations. The bride's sister, Miss Georgina Shepherd, made a pretty bridesmaid in a frock of old rose flax crepe, embroidered in blue and pink, and wore a hat to match. An arm bouquet of red carnations completed the attire.

Two dainty flower girls, Miss Dora Curtis, sister of the groom, in a pretty pink and white frock, and little Miss Wilson, in a pink and blue frock with floral wreath on her head, carried baskets of carnations, and were much admired. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Colin Curtis, and the ushers were Mr. Drummond and Mr. Reginald Hammond.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Metropolitan United Church, where the members of the Sunshine Circle, of which the bride is a member, displayed their artistic handiwork in the floral decorations. Mrs. Shepherd, mother of the bride, in navy blue Canton crepe, trimmed with Oriental gold lace and hat to match, was assisted in receiving the numerous guests by Mrs. Curtis, mother of the groom, who was dressed in navy blue silk with touches of jade and wore a black picture hat. Among the many handsome gifts was a case of flat silver from the office staff of the Canadian National Railway, of which the groom is a member, and a table lamp from the members of the choir of the Metropolitan United Church to which the bride belonged.

The bride's traveling costume was a powder blue frock with a brown velvet cloak, which her father and brother carried. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis left on the midnight boat for Vancouver en route for San Diego and Los Angeles, and on their return to Victoria will reside at 548 Niagara Street.

Ottawa, April 6.—An event of the deepest interest to thousands of women Zionists of Canada belonging to the Hadassah organization will take place in far-off Palestine on Thursday of this week in the formal opening of a girls' agricultural and domestic science school, founded with the money raised by the women of Canada during the last three years. Mrs. J. Freeman, Ottawa, Dominion president of the organization, has received notification that the inaugural ceremonies will be performed by Lady Samuel, wife of Sir Herbert Samuel, who was Palestine's first High Commissioner. The presiding officer on the occasion will be Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization. The school is situated at Nahalal and occupies more than 100 acres of ground, which was provided by the Jewish National Fund. The number of students at present accommodated is forty, but when a second building has been made ready the capacity of the school will be increased to seventy. Pupils will be taught the sciences of agriculture, horticulture and the business-like management of farms and the care of the farm household. Funds have been furnished for the school by Hadassah Chapters in every city and important town in Canada from coast to coast.

GRADUATE NURSES MEET IN VANCOUVER

Excellent Reports Presented at Provincial Gathering Yesterday

Vancouver, April 6.—The strength of our profession depends on the hearty support and loyalty of its members. The keynote of our provincial session is "service, and service brings happiness." These were the words used at the annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses' Association of B.C. by the president, Mrs. M. E. Johnson, R.N., in her address yesterday. The speaker pointed out the objects of the association were to endeavor to maintain the highest standards of professional work and conduct, the standardization of training schools in B.C., and to promote unity and good fellowship among our members. Following Mrs. Johnson's address, the secretary, Miss Katharine Stott, R.N., read her report, which showed that three general meetings had been held during the year, one in Victoria and two in New Westminster, with seven meetings of the council. The treasurer's report showed that receipts for the year amounted to $4,778.93, with disbursements of $4,456.28.

Miss Helen Randal, R.N., read the report of inspection of training schools and also the registrar's report. Reports of standing committees consisting of nursing education, private duty nursing, public health nursing, legislative, publicity and programmes were also read. In connection with the magazine report, it was shown that the number of subscribers to the "Canadian Nurse" had decreased and the members were urged to renew their subscriptions or get new subscribers.

The afternoon session commenced with invocation by Rev. C. C. Owen and addresses of welcome by Miss K. W. Ellis, R.N., and Dr. J. A. Gillespie. These were replied to by Miss I. Jeffares, R.N., of Duncan. The evening session included an address by Dr. G. H. Purvis of New Westminster, who spoke on "The Surgical Treatment of Tuberculosis."

YOUR BABY and MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

COLIC AND HUNGER

There was a time when the average baby had colic quite as a matter of course. If the baby screamed periodically; drew up, its feet in agony and refused to go to sleep, the mother accepted it quite philosophically and said: "The poor darling has the colic," and though she did nothing much about it or made no real effort to discover whether it was really under feeding or over-feeding. Now we are hardly satisfied to call a thing colic until it has proven to be the case. Colic is not a disease, it is a symptom. It is a sign that something is wrong. It is a sign that the baby is hungry or that it is getting bottle feedings. But when a child cries at the same time each day; refuses to gain and looks generally poorly nourished we don't call it colic any more and refuse to search farther. Just letting nature, and a more substantial diet later on, work the cure, we recognize it as under-feeding and do something to correct it. Colic does not come on regularly at a certain hour. When it does one can be fairly certain that the previous feeding has been too scant, and the baby is crying from plain hunger and nothing else. If the baby is really hungry one can see how foolish it is to try and cure him by filling his stomach with fennel or peppermint tea, no matter how good they may be, when what the babe wants is good honest food. It is equally foolish to give tea for colic, or gruel, or agonizing stomach pain, unless, in addition, one takes some steps to remove the cause of the pain instead of just easing it temporarily. Every article is not a good food. Sometimes soon, but it is intended to warn mothers against taking their own, the neighbor's or relative's diagnosis of colic and, while they are sure it is colic, and not hunger, and once sure they must use some means to remove the cause, rather than doctoring the baby at each attack, merely to cure that attack.

MANY GUESTS AT CATHEDRAL WEDDING

Nuptials of Miss Naomi Heming and Mr. Eric Woodburn Last Evening

At Christ Church Cathedral last evening at 8 o'clock a wedding of interest to Victorians and many residents of Vancouver took place, when the Rev. Reverend Bishop Schofield, united in marriage Naomi Domville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Heming, and Mr. Eric Donaldson Woodburn, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woodburn of Vancouver, formerly of Glasgow, and grandson of the late Mr. John Davidson, founder of the Donaldson Steamship Line, Great Britain.

The bride party was met at the entrance to the cathedral by the boys' choir who preceded them up the aisle singing as a processional hymn, "O Perfect Love." Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a winsome picture in her wedding gown of white georgette, long with long waist-line and having a vest of rose-point lace, long sleeves edged with the rose point and on the bottom of the skirt a flounce of the same lace. The traditional wedding veil was attached to the coiffeur with a bandeau of rose-point lace, the ends of which fell gracefully over the shoulders to the folds of the filmy tulle. The bouquet was a shower of bridal roses, lilies of the valley and white roses. Miss Patricia Heming, the bride's sister, as maid of honor was wearing a simple frock of orchid crepe georgette simply fashioned and wore on her head a wreath of gold leaves. A cousin of the bridegroom, made a charming attendant in her gown of daffodil-yellow georgette, and wore a bandeau of the same material, adorned with golden flowers. The bouquets carried were composed of tulips and freesias to match the frocks.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Ian Woodburn of Vancouver, and Messrs. Kelly Heming and Basil Rolfe of Vancouver acted as ushers. In addition to the Easter floral decorations in the church, the guests' news were signified by clusters of fragrant blossoms. Mr. Harold Davis presided at the organ and during the signing of the register played the "Prelude" to Lohengrin.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at "Shuhum," Rockland Avenue, kindly loaned by Miss Agnew for the happy occasion and where Mrs. Heming was assisted in receiving the guests by Miss Agnew. Mrs. Heming, the bride's mother, wore a gown of brown lace, with which was worn a smart turban of gold and brown to match, while Miss Agnew's gown was a Paris model of mother-of-pearl sequins over Nile green satin. Mrs. Benzie of Vancouver, an aunt of the groom, was dressed in black tulle and wore a hat to match. Miss Rutter of Vancouver was groomed in powder blue crepe de Chine.

Quantities of fragrant spring flowers were used to enhance the beauty of the various reception rooms, the hall having as floral decorations an arch of blossoms under which the bride and groom stood to receive the hearty congratulations of the assembled guests. In the dining-room, the supper table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, surrounded by soft tulle and jonquils and forget-me-nots. Tall white candles in crystal sconces gave an additional artistic touch to the table decorations. Rose tulips and pink stocks were arranged in the drawing-room. The bride and groom were seated in the drawing-room. The bride's traveling costume was a frock of powder blue crepe de Chine, over which was worn a cloak of taupe broadcloth. A smart hat to match the frock completed the attire. To the bride, the groom gave a brooch of platinum set with diamonds and sapphires, to the bridesmaids gold bangles, to the best man, a pipe, and to the ushers, gold cuff links. Among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Benzie of Vancouver, uncle and aunt of the groom, Miss Rutter of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wright, Miss Leslie Wright of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. James Sweeney of Vancouver, the bride's sisters, Misses Joy and Pat Palmer of Vancouver and Mr. Percy White of Vancouver.

Hair Dry, Brittle from Constant Waving, Curling

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast. Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Danderine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes, and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant. (Advt.)

AT THE THEATRES

HAROLD IS HE-MAN
CRUSADER IN "FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE"

Harold Lloyd—he of the appealing smile, modest manner and horn-rimmed glasses—arrived in town yesterday in his latest comedy opus, "For Heaven's Sake!" The steady and continuous roar of laughter that greeted the initial unfolding of this film at the Dominion Theatre last night was an eloquent and most hilarious tribute to the most hilarious and fruitful entertainment the current season has as yet produced. There isn't a dull moment in the entire production. It bubbles pep and action; it generates thrills and thrills, and it gushes grins and gags in an unceasing stream. In short, "For Heaven's Sake!" is good, solid, substantial fun, served up hot from the Lloydian griddle. The plot of the picture has to do with Harold's metamorphosis from a care-free and indolent millionaire clubman, bored with his life of idle ease and luxury, to a he-man crusader, a fighting crusader, who becomes the leading spirit in a slum mission.

His strong-arm methods in reforming the toughs and gangsters of the underworld are enough to make Billy Sunday turn green with envy and every film fan blue with laughter. One mirth-provoking scene is but a stepping-stone to another, even more uproariously funny, and it all leads up to a hysterical climax in the shape of a mad, dizzy, riotous bus ride that is the last word in excitement and thrill.

Sandwiched in between the rollicking foolery and spirited action is a wistful romance that gives the bespectacled comedian a chance to make shy love to the charming and demure Johanna Halderson.

The playhouse has been very shrewdly directed by Sam Taylor, and credit for the story goes to John Grey, Ted Wilde and Clyde Bruckman.

"THE SEA BEAST"
TO BE SHOWN ON PLAYHOUSE SCREEN

John Barrymore, returning to the screen after his international success as "Hamlet" on the stage, has apparently found the finest vehicle of his screen career in "The Sea Beast," the earlier picture that comes to the Playhouse Theatre next Monday. This adaptation of Herman Melville's "Moby Dick" is said to rank with "The Covered Wagon."

MARY PICKFORD PUTS SONG INTO
ANNIE ROONEY FILM

There may be a lot of girls who "cannot sing the old songs," but there is certainly one who can put them in pictures, and that is Mary Pickford whose latest United Artists Corporation picture, "Little Annie Rooney," is now at the Columbia Theatre.

From the slender basis of the tender old song, loved by all the world, "The World's Sweetheart," has evolved a picture that is full of pathos and pure sentiment as well as rollicking with fun and comic situations.

However, if this putting songs into pictures should become the movie rage, the possibilities are somewhat appalling—but at any rate, Mary is the pioneer in the field and will not suffer even under keen competition for her latest picture is really two songs set to the camera. It might also be called, appropriately, too,
"My Wild Irish Rose."

AT COLISEUM

It was one of the great vamps of history who said: "A lover gone should be a lover dead," and though the ethics of such an opinion may be doubtful, it is certain that a lady holding to the soundness of such a theory would not have been so indiscreet as to carry it out, even in the intimate privacy of her garter, the photograph of a former admirer, and thus would not have become involved in the compromising circumstances surrounding the heroine throughout the three cleverly written acts of "Getting Gertie's Garter," at the Coliseum. The play is by Wilson Collison and quite in his most sparkling style, while the Coliseum company are doing some of their best work in its presentation. From the cordial reception this production received at its first performance last night it would appear that comedy stock in Victoria is likely to continue to provide something in entertainment in the city hitherto lacking.

"MOTHER GOOSE"

PANTOMIME IS POPULAR FEATURE

Was Mother Goose the Princess who had been stolen from the Royal Castle when but a babe of two years? She had the red mark around her arm, the sole feature by which the lost Princess could be discovered.
She strongly advanced her claim being anxious to secure Prince Charming as a husband. Then Nell, the flower girl, appeared on the scene, and what relation what she to the whole story? See "Mother Goose" at the Playhouse Theatre this week.

The Hincks Players are offering the theatregoers of Victoria one of the best pantomimes ever produced in this city. The show is excellent, with everything included that makes for a one hundred per cent. entertainment. The case is augmented for the occasion, and the musical and dance numbers are receiving a hearty reception.

Uttering its weird cry, the giant condor circled over the Martin ranch and the sheep were herded to cover.
In the yard a baby was playing. The bird swooped down and, in its talons, caught the screaming child. Off to wards the mountain tops the great vulture soared with its prey. Running desperately, a dog—you'll find yourself thrilled seeing "Rin-Tin-Tin" on the Playhouse screen.

CAPITOL OFFERING.

THREE UNUSUALLY ATTRACTIVE ITEMS

A crowded house witnessed the first showing of an exceptional bill at the Capitol Theatre last night. The comprised three stellar events, the first being Harry Langdon in his first feature-length comedy, "Tramp-Tramp-Tramp," which is being hailed all over the country as the sensation of the year. In this latest scream Harry opens his old kit-bag wide, and what emerges from it is a neat art of comedy that should give his leaders in this field a few new marks to aim at. Harry plays the role of a hobo who is attracted by a prize offered for a hikin' contest in Burton shoes. He has often admired the beauty of Burton's daughter as pictured on lithographs. He meets Betty Burton, and believing that she will marry him, he wins the race, he enters the contest. What happens when Harry enters the race is best appreciated by seeing the picture, suffice to say he is filled with giggles, chuckles, grins, mirth, topped off with uncontrollable laughter. The second item on the programme is the presentation of Tex Howard and his Princess Orchestra. "Tex" and his merry musicians need no introduction to Victoria theatregoers, and his programme this week of is exceptional merit, including such favorites as, "Gypsy Love Song," with full band; "Cecilia," fox trot, with full band, and vocal solo by Hyman Breslow. "Rubenol O'way," a brass quintette selection; "Yes Sir, That's My Baby," fox trot, full band with Charlton solo dance by Bob Stubble, and "Mighty Lak a Horse," a superb violin solo rendered by Hyman Bres-low. This aggregation of instrumentalists is well worth hearing. They will play every afternoon and evening. The third item on the big bill is a "Dance Divertissement," presented by Madame Ione Zinck and company in "Dance Varieties." This talented company of dancers will appear in several gorgeous and fantastic dances and after patrons of the Capitol Theatre have had the pleasure of seeing them perform, they will find the picture, "Tramp-Tramp-Tramp," a most enjoyable and entertaining bill.

"Just think of it!" exclaimed Flora.
"A few words mumbled over your head and you're married."
"Yes," agreed Debra. "And a few words mumbled in your sleep and you're divorced."

CENTRAL BUREAU OF STATISTICS FOR EDUCATION NEEDED

Says Dean Bollert at National Education Conference in Montreal

Montreal, April 6.—Much practical benefit to education is hoped for from the conference of the National Council on Education which opens here to-day. Not only do delegates express the belief that the results in interchange of ideas and information may prove stimulating, but that tangible results will prove of inestimable value to the Dominion as a whole.

Dean Mary I. Bollert, who is Dean of Women and Assistant Professor of English at the University of British Columbia, spoke yesterday of the hope cherished that a central bureau of statistics may be formed as an outcome of the conference.

"In speaking on educational topics," she said, "the lecturer must back up her statements with figures which have been verified and obtained. The bureau at Washington has been the only source easy to access, and the lack of a bureau has greatly handicapped those interested in educational problems and educational movements."

"This lack deprives us of the possibility of making scientific and accurate comparisons between the work done in the different provinces. We in British Columbia have no really scientific way of knowing whether our work in the schools is approximately as productive as the work in schools of the other provinces. I also hope that we shall have a bureau on a regular established basis."

"Ideals are intangible matters and hard to define. Yet I personally feel that the gathering together of people from all parts of Canada must help to clarify the matter in the minds of the persons interested. While it is difficult to define a national ideal, it ought to be possible for us to tell roughly and broadly whether we want a commercial or a spiritual ideal to prevail."

Questioned as to which ideal appears to be held in Canada, Dean Bollert declared that the tendency appears to be decidedly toward a broadly spiritual ideal.

Sidney

Sidney, April 6.—The North Saanich school club held their weekly card party in the old schoolhouse on Saturday evening. Progressive five hundred was played at twelve tables. The prizes were won by Mrs. G. MacLean and V. Nunn. Supper was in charge of Miss Gladys Ricketts and Miss Alma Robinson. The high score prizes for the season were a tie for the ladies by Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Lorenzen, the former winning on the cut, the first prize and the latter the second prize. Mr. MacAuley won the gentlemen's first prize and Mr. Sanbury was the winner of the second prize. A dance was later held, music being supplied by the club orchestra. The ladies' auxiliary of the club will meet at the club rooms on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. G. Clarke and Mrs. Wilson will be the hostesses.

The Anglican churches were prettily decorated with daffodils, white lilies and Easter lilies for the Easter services, at which the rector, the Rev. T. M. Hughes officiated at all the services. St. Andrew's altar looked especially beautiful, being a mass of lilies. Both churches were decorated by the Ladies' Guilds.

The United Church was prettily decorated with Spring flowers by members of the congregation. The Rev. T. M. Hughes preached on "The Message of the Resurrection."

At St. Elizabeth's high mass was sung by the Rev. Father Schell. The church was prettily decorated by the Ladies of the Altar Society.

Final arrangements have been made for the bridge and five hundred card party which will be held in Matthews' Hall on Thursday, April 8, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the North Saanich Ladies Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon and family of Beacon Avenue have left to reside at Esquimalt.

Mrs. B. Deacon of All Bay has gone for a two-weeks' trip up the island.

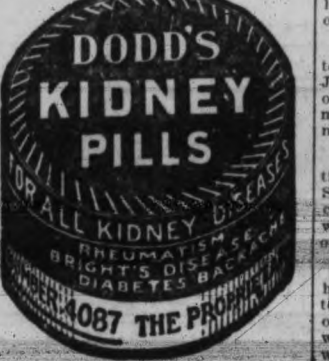

Miss Margaret Thorne of Victoria spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cockran, Roberts Point.

Victor Goddard of Victoria spent a few days at his home "Sea Point."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore and daughters have returned to their home in Saskatoon after spending several months with H. Moore, First Street.
